Your information

Everything you tell us in the form will be kept confidential in the NDTi project team.

Your information will be stored on NDTi computers that are safe.

The folders with your information will be password protected.

Only the team will be able to see your information on these computers.

If you are not chosen to be part of the sounding board, any information you give us will be destroyed after 6 months.

Your rights?

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is a law that tells us how we must look after your personal information. We always follow the rules of GDPR.

The right to be informed

This means NDTi must give you information about how they are using your information.

The right of access

This means NDTi will let you have your information quickly if you ask for it.

The right to rectification

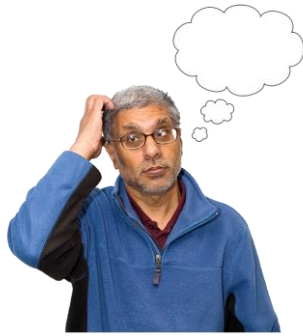

This means if NDTi hold information about you that is wrong, you have the right to have this corrected.

The right to erasure

This means you can ask NDTi to get rid of your information at any time.

What might be difficult about taking part?

Some of the topics we talk about in meetings might be difficult to talk about.

You do not have to share anything if you do not want to and can leave the meeting at any time.

You do not have to answer every question.

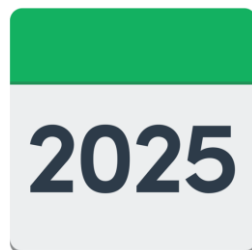

If you would like us to stop at any point, you can say “stop” or “no”.

What is good about taking part?

Your views and experiences will be helping the National Health Service (NHS) to shape policy that makes services work better for older people.

When will this sounding board end?

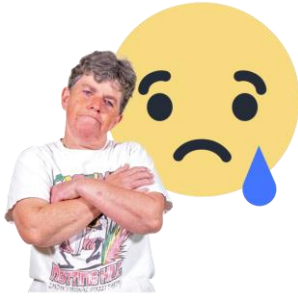

The Sounding Board will end in March 2025.

You will have the chance to re-apply.
