I will be happily living in my own home near my family I will be supported by people who understand me.

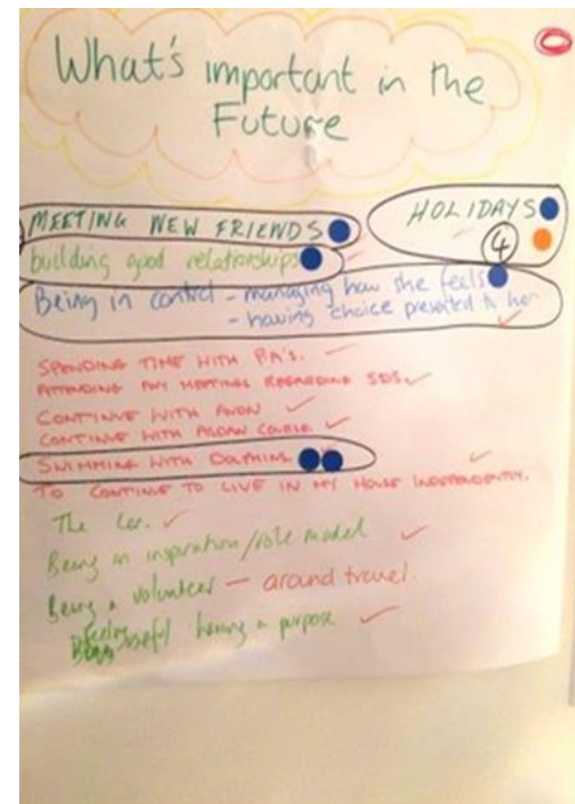

I will have a busy active life doing things in the home and in my community with people I like when I want to.

I will be moving around as freely as I can in my own home and in the community using a car and public transport alike

I will have a purpose in life and have meaningful things to do in my life

I will be in control by having communication that makes sense to me to help ME make decisions

I will always be going on regular holidays with people I like

I will feel more and more in control of my emotions as time goes on

I will have peace of mind being on my own at times

Thank you
