

A review of advocacy

Interactive webinar for advocates

Tuesday 5 March, 10am-2pm

What will I get from the webinar?

- A full run down of the evidence and recommendations from the report.
- Hear from self-advocates and carers about the difference advocacy can make.
- An opportunity to work together, share ideas and start developing practical solutions for your local area.
- Build evidence to ask your local authority or integrated care board to improve the advocacy offer.

There are additional webinars coming up for commissioners, people and families.

Register to attend

Free online webinar
for advocates
5 March, 10am-2pm

About the report

In 2022 NHS England commissioned us to review advocacy support for people with learning disabilities and autistic people who are inpatients in mental health settings. The report was published in October 2023. Whilst the review highlighted positive examples of advocacy, it also found evidence of widespread, multifactorial issues and challenges.

Read the report.

in partnership with:

