

A review of advocacy

Interactive webinar for commissioners

Wednesday 6 March, 10am-2pm

What will I get from the webinar?

- A full run down of the evidence and recommendations from the report in relation to the advocacy commissioning landscape.
- Hear from self-advocates and carers about the difference advocacy can make.
- An opportunity to work together to share ideas and inspiration for what works well when commissioning advocacy.
- Start developing plans for practical changes you can make in your area.

There are additional webinars coming up for advocates, people and families.

Register to attend

Free online webinar
for commissioners
6 March, 10am-2pm

About the report

In 2022 NHS England commissioned us to review advocacy support for people with learning disabilities and autistic people who are inpatients in mental health settings. The report was published in October 2023. Whilst the review highlighted positive examples of advocacy, it also found evidence of widespread, multifactorial issues and challenges.

Read the report.

in partnership with:

